

Stella Barton Day

Lilly was a little girl with two older brothers and a baby sister. She loved to sing and wrote songs that she sang to the storm-water drain cat living in her neighborhood. Lilly brought Anna, the cat, treats that her mother had cooked for their family. Since Lilly told everyone in the neighborhood about Anna, many neighbors also fed the cat delicious treats.

One day Lilly knew something was wrong. Anna wouldn't stop meowing.

You'll have to read Stella Barton Day's charming picture book to find out what happened next. I guarantee you'll want to read this heartwarming book again and again.

Paws and Claws Publishing, LLC
1589 Skeet Club Road, Suite 102-175
High Point, NC 27265
www.PawsandClawsPublishing.com

