Virginia Author Releases Her Sixth Children's Picture Book That's About a Little Girl and a Rainbow Silk

Paws and Claws Publishing author Cindy Hollingsworth wrote this lighthearted book about a floating Rainbow Silk that befriends a little girl. Cindy's fun, rhyming story will have you smiling as you watch the characters play outdoors. The descriptions of the darkening clouds, rainstorm, and rainbow afterward will have readers and listeners nodding their heads in recognition. Cindy's sixth book once again demonstrates for readers her lifelong love of dance and the dance arts.

GREENSBORO, NC—JULY 6, 2018—At the start of Cindy's rhyming tale, the drifting Rainbow Silk asked the little girl to come out to play. They ran, jumped, and laughed. Rainbow Silk's pink, yellow, green, and blue sparkled and glistened. As the two raced and shouted, the girl realized she'd made a new friend.

Then Rainbow Silk saw clouds appearing overhead and was gone on a gust of wind. Sadly the girl started home without her new friend. However in the distant clapping thunder, she heard Rainbow Silk make a promise to return to her when the sun came back.

During the rainstorm, the girl remained hopeful and waited to see if her new friend would return. As the rain continued to fall, she went outdoors with her star-covered umbrella. Time dragged slowly by. After what seemed like an eternity, the sun beamed and her friend appeared as an arching Rainbow high in the sky.

After the Rainbow had made wishes come true, it came back to her home. And the two played joyously once again.

The rhyming text and brightly-colored, sparkling artwork in this book portray the effervescent qualities of the Rainbow Silk perfectly.

Rainbow Silk is a colorful, joyously exuberant picture book for children. Readers will enjoy and relate to the antics of the two new friends. The bright colors in the artwork from the beginning of the book to its end make the artwork dance. Readers and listeners alike will be clamoring to read and look at this book time and again.
